

Fisherman's Trail ~ November 1, 2020

What a lovely, sunny day we had. A bonus beautiful hiking day in November. We met at the Hyannis Point junction in North Vancouver. We started our hike from Baden Power Trail and descended down to Fisherman's Trail.

We hiked along Fisherman's Trail by Seymour River. Met few bikers and fellow hikers on the way. Fisherman's Trail is an easy, flat but beautiful, well maintained trail. No hopping or puffing required. At noon, we reached our lunch spot which had picnic tables, sunshine, blue sky, and mountain views.

After lunch, we went back by the same Fisherman Trail. At 2pm, we had reached our parking place and felt great with our five hours outing.

Thanks to Gerard and Rimka for co-leading the hike.
