Grouse Mountain, December 30, 2023

Our original plan was snowing shoeing to Eagle Bluff but we changed to Grouse Mountain due to wet weather forecasting.

At 9am, two Babushkas (old lady or grandma) met and carpooled to BCMC trail head. We started our hike with foggy weather but no rain. We hiked up to Grouse Mountain at around 11:30am. After a short break at the Lodge, we went out to meet the reindeer and explored Light Walk and other areas before we continued our hike to Dam Mountain. There was not much snow on the Grouse Mountain due to warm temperatures. We turned back and started hiking down BCMC at around 2pm when rain started and finished our hike at 3:15pm.

It was a great 'Barbuska' hiking day indeed.

Thanks to Ljilian for leading the hike and being our driver.
