

Killarney Lake and Dorman Point, Bowen Island. – October 22, 2022

Bowen Island, only 15 minutes ferry ride away but feel like we are in a whole different world. Relaxing atmosphere, beautiful scenery, lake view and friendly people. Autumn is a beautiful season to visit this island.

There were 18 of us (14 BOCers and 4 guests) who came to this island to hike/walk. At 10:30am, we set foot on Bowen Island. We hiked up to Dorman Point first when we were still full of energy and were treated to a beautiful view. After Dorman Point, we started our second hike of the day, Killarney Lake. At 12:30pm, we arrived at the lake picnic area and enjoyed our lunch. Weather was nice and cool. Not a drop of rain the whole day on the island. Any good weather in October is a bonus for us hikers.

After we finished hiking Killarney Lake, we were back to town center around 3:20 pm which gave us a bit of time to walk around town center. We caught the 4pm ferry home feeling happy and content.

Thanks to Gerard for co-leading the hike, Keith for being the end-person of the group, Gianna to count numbers to make sure we don't lose any person.
