

Minnekhada Regional Park hike

December 09, 2023 – Gerard Laman

On Saturday morning we started our hike in Minnekhada Park with six BOC members. The weather forecast was for rain and maybe snow in the afternoon, we therefore changed the time from Burnaby to 8:00am instead of 8:30am.

The temperature was about 2⁰ C at the start of the hike but fortunately it was dry. At the High Knoll we could still see the damage from the wild fire that had burned in the park in September 2022. When we left the High Knoll, it started to rain a little bit. But when this turn into a solid rain we decided that we should keep the hike short and not go the Addington Lookout.

We returned to car wet but happy and that the rain had not turned into snow.
