

Buntzen Lake, Lakeview Trail

November 12, 2023 – Gerard Laman

On Sunday morning, November 12th, we hiked with eight BOC members the Buntzen Lakeview Trail and completed the loop around the lake via the Buntzen Lake Trail. The weather had cleared-up, no rain but with an overcast sky.

It was very quiet on the trail for a Sunday morning, maybe the rain in the last couple of days had scared the people away.

We started by crossing the floating bridge and noticed the low water level in the south arm of the lake. We crossed the new suspension bridge to reach the north beach where we stopped for lunch and had company from a couple of ravens that were looking for some food. We also saw two eagles flying over.

In the last five minutes of the hike we got a little bit of rain but that had no effect on the great hiking day we had.

Thanks to the drivers, Jacques and Gerard.

Photos by Gerard