

The Seymour River and Lynn Canyon loop. ~ August 02, 2021

'The Seymour River and Lynn Canyon loop' is a scenic circuit hike loop around two canyons of Lynn Creek and the Seymour River. The weather forecast was hot and smoky due to forest fire for Sunday; however nine of us (7 BOC members and 2 guests) still went for the hike and it was a good day for hiking.

At 10am, we started the hike at the Baden Powell trail head on Hyannis Drive. We took the Baden Powell trail to the Lynn Creek. Then hiked up to Lower Seymour parking lot where we had our lunch break in the gazebo closed to warrant's office. After lunch, we followed the Homestead Trail to the Fisherman's Trail. While we stopped by for Seymour River for water break and enjoyed the river/mountain view, one of our guests realized she might lost her cell phone in the washroom during lunch break. Hence, Connie and I help leading the guest hiked back up to our lunch break place and fortunately recovered the cell phone in the warrant's office. Gerard lead the rest of the group back to parking place.

A good workout and fun hiking day with great hiking friends.

Thanks to Gerard for co-leading the hike.
