

Elk Mountain – July 1, 2022

Happy Canada Day!!! Weather was pleasant and sunny. We arrived at the trailhead by 9am. Since there is only one trail up to Elk Mountain, we divided our group into advanced and slower-pace hikers. Within a few minutes, our advanced hikers were out of sight. We, the slower group, were happy to hike with our turtle pace. Up, up, up we went. With many water breaks and photo stops, we reached the ridge of Elk Mountain by 11:30pm, continued on hiking along the ridge, and then enjoyed our lunch with a beautiful view. Our advanced group had hiked further and turn back to join us for lunch.

We retraced our steps and descended back down the trail with an even slower pace, not wanting to leave this beautiful view too soon. The whole group came down together and arrived at the parking lot at 3pm.
